

Week-end Feature at Palace

"FOUR SONS"

Big as the Heart of Humanity—the greatest heart story ever told. Fri.-Sat. at Palace.

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

PUBLISHED IN THE PREMIER COAL MINING CENTRE OF THE CROW'S NEST PASS

BE SURE TO SEE IT!

"Four Sons"—Youth and age have their heads in this superb story. A smashing hit in New York and you'll love it too! Fri.-Sat. at Palace.

Vol. 8 No. 12

Coleman, Alberta, Thursday, November 15, 1928

$2 per year, single copy 5c

Armistice Day Appropriately Observed Here

Local Clergy and S. A. Officers Join in Service—Rev. H. J. Bevan Delivers Fine Address to Returned Men.

The memorial service to commemorate Armistice Day held in the K. of P. hall on Sunday was attended by a number of townpeople, being presided over by Mayor W. J. Burns, who in his opening remarks stated that the purpose of the gathering was to place a flower of remembrance (in our imagination) on the grave of every soldier who died in the service of his country during the war. Though there were not as many present as the occasion warranted, yet those who were present came in a spirit of reverence and with the sacred purpose of keeping green the memory of the fallen.

The singing of the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was followed by the scripture reading by Rev. A. D. Currie, set apart for this service throughout Canada.

The Rev. H. J. Bevan gave the main address, stating at the outset that he had not chosen any particular text, as he felt he wanted to be at liberty to talk of things closest to the people's hearts on this day, and especially to ex-service men, of whom he was one.

Particularly on this day men who had fought in the war would be recalling old scenes, old faces, and he particularly recalled two boys who enlisted in the same battalion as himself, from this province. He liked to dwell on their memory, for they represented what was high and noble in life. During the time he served with them in France, they always stood for everything that was true and upright, and on his return from sick leave, he asked for his two old comrades, and learned they had been killed within a short time of each other near Arras. Always would he remember their noble example in times of stress, and perhaps it was fitting that they should go to the end of the road together, even unto death.

Then he remembered of another time when his battalion was going up from Le Havre, and the men knew they were going for a stiff time ahead. And as men will, they commenced to sing, and one fellow started to sing hymns that all must have heard in the days when they were quite young, or at Sunday School, and how everybody joined in without reserve. A decade had gone by since the signing of the Armistice, yet well-remembered scenes came to mind, such as the Chateau de la Haye, Souchez, Vimy and all the little villages in that area, ravaged by the conflict. He could remember them as he saw them, yet those who had since visited there had told him how the scars of war were being healed. It was good to know this, for this was not the day to remember the sordid side of the war, but to recall the greatness of the lives that were sacrificed and to thank God for the fact that men had received a new valuation of life. Particularly he recalled an incident when with some comrades he was walking to camp near Portsmouth, at the close of one of those dull days which England so often experiences, and one of the men remarked on the beauty of the sun trying to break through the clouds at the close of the day. Rather peculiar, one might remark, that soldiers engaged in the butchery of war should think of such things, but in most men's minds were thoughts of higher things than fighting.

We were all touched by the war—it served to bring home realities and it has shown us that peace is far better than war—that it is better to devote our energy towards promoting peace, to building up our life, our country and its institutions. Today had a double significance, the commemorating of the Armistice and thanksgiving to God for the blessings bestowed. In four years Canada gave nearly 60,000 of its best, and there were many whose hearts were left desolate, whose observance of the day would be in recalling fond memories of loved ones who had passed

CHIEF MINING INSPECTOR HAS ASSUMED DUTIES

Andrew Millar, recently appointed chief inspector of mines for the province, succeeding John T. Stirling, who resigned some time ago, took over the duties of his new office on November 1. Mr. Millar was formerly manager of the Saunders Ridge Coal Company at Mercoa.

GIRLS SOLD POPPIES

The poppies sold by girls last Saturday for the Canadian Legion, were all disposed of by 10 a.m. and there could have been three or four times the number sold had the local branch had them on hand. Most people are only too glad to buy a poppy to commemorate Armistice Day, and thus help the disabled soldiers in the Veterans' crafts shop, and many regretted they did not have an opportunity to purchase a poppy.

away. But if this day means anything, it means that we must all stand for the higher and better things, for new hope, peace and liberty, and understanding between nations. If we must save our lives, we must give our lives in faith, uprightness, dignity, and live with a sense of honor.

The singing of the hymn "O Valiant Hearts" was joined in by the gathering, and the prayer for the day was given by Captain Donnelly, of the Salvation Army. Following the singing of the national anthem, the benediction was pronounced.

Mr. Percy Locke kindly played the accompaniment for the singing. Those present were interested with the soldiers of the service, and most of the ex-service men living in Coleman were present, besides widows of soldiers. The collection was for the invalid soldiers in Keith's sanatorium.

The Journal aims to give the local news and asked for the cooperation of our subscribers and readers. Our community affairs are of local importance, and after all though we must keep informed on world affairs, yet it is our neighbors and friends who are the most important people in our lives. The Journal endeavors to reflect the life of the community, and therefore local items of interest will be welcome.

International Co Erecting Fine Modern Residence

The International Coal & Coke Co. Ltd. are at present under construction a modern eight-room residence toward the north end of Park Terrace.

The house will be occupied by the family of Mr. H. N. Hummel, who has recently been appointed secretary of the Company. Mr. Hummel will bring his family from the coast about the beginning of the new year.

FORMER COLEMAN RESIDENT PASSES AWAY IN PINCHER CREEK HOSPITAL

Vincent Tompkins, an old resident of Coleman, and brother of Mr. C. J. Tompkins of Blairmore, died in Pincher Creek hospital, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 8th, from heart trouble.

Deceased had a severe attack of flu last spring, affecting his heart, and after which he never regained his usual good health.

Two weeks ago he was removed to St. Michael's Hospital, Pincher Creek. Although all possible was done for him, his hopes for recovery were soon given up.

Mr. Tompkins was born in Margaree, N. S. 54 years ago, and came to Alberta in 1907, being employed by the International Coal & Coke Co. in Coleman. In 1912 he married Miss Mable Tibbott of Pincher Creek, and shortly afterwards went to Pincher Creek to reside.

He is survived by his widow and seven children, the eldest being in his 15th year; also an aged father in Margaree, N. S., and three brothers, C. J. in Blairmore, Jos. of Calgary and Rev. Jas. Tompkins of Gushoar, N. S.

Requiem mass was sung Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Michael's church, Pincher Creek by Fr. Lapouroux, after which the remains, followed by a large number of people, were laid to rest in Pincher Creek cemetery.

Many wreaths and spiritual offerings were laid to the esteem in which the deceased was held in the district.

USEFUL POINTERS ON MAILING CHRISTMAS PARCELS

Co-operate with Post Office Staff in Order to Secure Good Service During Pre-Christmas Rush

The Christmas season is coming on and it is well to view the local postmaster wishes to give a few helpful hints re Christmas mailing.

British and foreign post. Parcels intended for delivery in the United Kingdom should be securely wrapped and those for European countries must be sewn in cotton, whereas a customs declaration stating contents and value, also the name and address of the sender. By securing these forms and attaching them to the parcels previous to mailing, will save much time at the wicket.

Overseas parcels should be mailed within the next two weeks and at the very latest to connect with the S.S. "Montclare" from St. John, Dec. 7th.

The insured parcel post system is in force to Great Britain, United States, and some foreign countries. Take advantage of this as it affords absolute security on your parcels. Parcels for delivery in Canada prepaid at 40¢ and over may be insured free up to the value of $50; this will be done only when requested.

A notice card giving the dates for mailing will be found in the lobby of the post office. All information regarding rates, etc., will be gladly furnished at the wicket.

Small parcels containing jewelry or articles of a valuable nature should be registered.

Christmas money orders for payment abroad should be purchased not later than December 1st.

The wickets in the post office remain open until 6 p.m.; mailing early in the day may save disappointment.

We all make mistakes, of course; but we don't have to respond to errors.

If you want work well done, select a busy man. The other has no time.—Ebert Hubbard.

Any man who has a job has a chance.

NOTES AND COMMENT

GLORIOUS WEATHER

Though it may be risky to be throwing compliments to the weather man, yet one cannot help but contrast the monsoon so far with the weather we were experiencing at this time last year. The road between Blairmore and Coleman was partly blocked, automobiles were being shipped by rail through the Crow's Nest Pass, and we were in the grip of winter good and plenty. Beets were frozen in the ground, whereas this year they have all been harvested and the big sugar factory at Raymond is soon to complete its season's run. But we had better not say any more, in case by the time this appears in print a real blizzard is having its fling. We'll enjoy it while we can, anyway!

LEADERSHIP REQUIRED

Last year it is recalled a very pleasant banquet was held by the boys of the town, who invited their daddies to spend the evening as their guests. It was hoped at the time that further steps would be taken towards starting a movement which would extend the idea whereby the men of the town would take more interest in the boys, but it does not appear to have been fruitful.

Boys respond to leadership, and any time that may be given in fostering boys' work would not only give pleasure but would pay handsome dividends. What amusements are there for boys in Coleman? True, there is the skating rink, and there is the swimming pool, but as regards organized sport or athletics there is nothing. It is somewhat of a reflection on those who should be community leaders in movements of this kind. We get out of life just what we put into it, and if we do nothing towards making the town more interesting than it is for the young folks, naturally they will be hankering for the first chance to break away and seek other fields.

The Journal would be pleased to publish any comment on this phase of community life for the young people, in the anticipation that something may be started.

"LEST WE FORGET"

As Kipling once said, "It's Tommy this and Tommy that, when the band begins to play," but after all, how soon are the deeds of our soldiers in the great war forgotten by a large number of people. One could not help but be struck with this on viewing the gathering on Sunday at the special service arranged by the Canadian Legion in honor of fallen comrades. Many who should have been present were conspicuous by their absence. It's easy to shout hurrah and make a great show of patriotic fervor for our soldier in time of war, but apparently that is far as appreciation or remembrance goes with those who shout the hardest when there is work to be done.

"Is there any night-life in your town?"

"Oh, yes. Every once in a while a member of our lodge dies and we sit up with the corpse."

Miners' Officials To Fight Tariff

Join Forces with Operators in Representation to Ottawa

The forthcoming hearing of the application of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, Limited, before the tariff commission, is stated to be causing the keenest possible interest in coal mining. Labor circles, and in all probability the other steam coal operators in Alberta, who are opposing the application will have the support of the officials of the United States Workers of America, it has been learned from a reliable source.

The position taken by the representatives of the miners is that the application, if granted, would seriously cut down the time worked in all the steam coal mines outside of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company's, as more American coal could then be brought into Canada if the tariff were abolished.

This is the first known instance where the workers' officials and the operators have taken an unanimous stand in opposing an application at Ottawa.—Calgary Herald.

Canadian Legion Notes

The local branch of the Canadian Legion extend their thanks for the generous support given to the selling of the poppies on Armistice Day. Special mention should be given to the girls, who worked so hard. Splendid support was given by the Oddfellows at their whist drive, where 100 poppies were sold.

We wish to thank those who helped to make the Armistice service a success. The Knights of Pythias who donated their hall, the mayor, W. J. Burns Esq., who acted as chairman, Rev. H. J. Bevan, Rev. A. D. Currie and Capt. Donnelly who conducted the service, and Mr. P. Locke, accompanist. The collection came to $900; it will be given to disabled soldiers.—R. Parry, Secretary.

ALBERTA-TO-COAST TELEPHONE SERVICE INAUGURATED

A new inter-provincial telephone service was initiated on Tuesday last when the first telephonic conversations were carried on over the all-Canadian line between Alberta cities and those on the Pacific coast. Previously this connection has had to be made through Coats, Great Falls, Spokane, Seattle and thence to Vancouver, and it is expected that the new line will greatly facilitate telephonic communications between all points in Alberta and the coast cities.

First-Class Work and Quick Service, send your HEMSTITCHING to Barton's Music & Sewing Machine Store, Fernie, B.C.

Hard luck is a polite name for the sleeping sickness.

Farming First—The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, Canada's National Journal, and a home magazine included. A year for a dollar or three years for $2. Wonderful!

Lord Nelson at Halifax Opened

Above, the Lord Nelson viewed from the Botanical Gardens. Inset is a very charming corner of the lounge, showing the bust of Lord Nelson in the corner. Mr. E. W. Beatty

E. W. Beatty, chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was speaking as guest of honor at the banquet which marked the official opening of the Lord Nelson Hotel at Halifax, referring to the tourist attractions of Nova Scotia and sending to the hotel a man who was the head of the World's Greatest Travel System was a decided appreciation. "In addition to the opportunities for sport which are unsurpassed and attract tourists from all over the world, there are the historic associations such as typified by the Evangeline legend which the Canadian Pacific and Dominion Atlantic Companies have successfully preserved for nearly a century. It seems only right that the railway which came into existence as a fulfillment of one of the terms of Confederation should encourage such travel to your cities and other historic places," he said. "That travel has greatly increased in the last few years has been due, I believe, to the fact that the solicitation of your business men joined with them in the building of this hotel. It is for the same reason that we are building a modern hotel with other facilities at Sydney."

The Lord Nelson Hotel, while operated under the direction of the Canadian Pacific Railway is the result of a sincere effort on the part of the people of Halifax who have long been working for a modern hotel which will be a credit to the city. The hotel is to be a great addition to the city. It is situated in the heart of the city and fronting on the Botanical Gardens that have helped to make this old city famous.

Within and without, the appearance of the hotel reflects credit on its architects and builders. The building and in decoration it is Georgian in character, and throughout the hotel and particularly in the public rooms, a most successful effort has been made to express the period recalled by the name of the hotel. The interior of the lobby inside the front doors is a handsome and spacious lobby, which at once gives the keynote of Georgian decoration. The hotel offices are here as also are other public services such as elevator, lobby, porter's shop, etc.

The mezzanine floor and ladies waiting room leads up from this, and on one side of the lobby is a short flight of steps leading up to the assembly lounge, the third room, and in the adjacent assembly hall the third floor is occupied by a large number of people. One could not help but be struck with this on viewing the gathering on Sunday at the special service arranged by the Canadian Legion in honor of fallen comrades.

Many who should have been present were conspicuous by their absence.

"It's easy to shout hurrah and make a great show of patriotic fervor for our soldier in time of war, but apparently that is far as appreciation or remembrance goes with those who shout the hardest when there is work to be done."

"Is there any night-life in your town?"

"Oh, yes. Every once in a while a member of our lodge dies and we sit up with the corpse."

Palace Theatre

Fri. and Sat., Nov. 16 and 17

Super Picture—William Fox Presents

"FOUR SONS"

Big as the Heart of Humanity

Also Fox Weekly News and Comedy—11 Reels

Coming During the Week:

Colleen Moore in "HAPPINESS AHEAD"

Tom Mix in "DAREDEVIL'S REWARD"

"The Legion of the Condemned"

is coming on November 23 and 24

RED ROSE TEA

"is good tea"

Red Rose Orange Pekoe is supreme
In clean, bright Aluminum.

Think It Over.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, in addressing the Maritime Province Club in Montreal, told a "Father Doyle" story, which he heard while visiting Nova Scotia this past summer, a story with a point to it:

"Father Doyle was walking along a road there, before automobiles were allowed on Prince Edward Island—that is not so long ago—and he was overtaken by a farmer in a democrat. The farmer said, 'Will you have a lift?' and Father Doyle said he would be delighted. He got into the democrat and opened up the conversation by asking the farmer his name. 'My name's Murphy, but I'm not a Catholic,' the farmer answered. Father Doyle suggested that they might leave religious matters alone and get along quite well together. As they neared the journey's end, Father Doyle thanked the farmer, and offered to give him a little advice from an old man of long experience. 'When you die, you hope to go to heaven?' 'I hope so.' 'Well, remember my advice. When you get there, and go up to the golden gate and knock at the door, and St. Peter says 'Who's there?' Just say "Murphy," and stop right there.'

Father Doyle's suggestion that we might leave our religious differences alone and treat each other as fellow men—(say "Murphy" and stop right there)—is good advice. Let's take one daily paper in commenting on this little story, is mankind a mild and will, and organizations, to emphasize our common needs, and our common ideals, the points upon which we can agree, rather the minor matters upon which we disagree and which will end gender ill-will, strife and discord.

The recent Presidential election in the United States is an object lesson to all people. A great country of upwards of 110,000,000 people, engaged in the supremely important task of determining the personnel and policies of their Government for the next four years, had had their minds distracted from the real issue involved in the election by appeals based solely on the religious belief of one of the candidates for President. It is not that the candidate in question was a heathen, or an atheist, denying there is a God, and wholly devoted to worldly things and lacking all the finer ideals in life—but, he believes in, and worships the same God as those who attacked him—but he was born into and brought up to respect certain doctrines and forms in one particular branch of the Christian church, just as his opponents were born into and brought up to respect and accept the doctrines and forms of worship in other branches of the Christian church. But these Christians could not agree to disagree on these minor matters and unite on the great fundamentals of Christianity itself. With what result?

Great national issues affecting the whole life and future of the country, such as the prohibitory liquor laws, the tariff, the improvement of agriculture, public ownership of public utilities versus private and monopolistic control, and other real national questions, all became confused and mixed up in the minds of millions of people with the really inconsequential subject of one man's church affiliation. And what has been gained thereby? What remains after all the shouting is over? Old friendships of a lifetime broken, feelings of bitterness and hatred engendered, communities divided which were formerly united in work for the common good.

It is but a repetition of the strife of the middle ages. Much the same thing has occurred in Canada over and over again, but no man living can point to any good resulting from such campaigns. Here in Western Canada our people pride themselves on their devotion to co-operative principles, and they point to the accomplishment of great and lasting reforms because of their acceptance of, and devotion to co-operative policies and enterprises. But they may well ask themselves how long that good-will and harmony so essential to the success of co-operative endeavor will last, not to mention its further development and growth in order that still greater things may be achieved, if they are going to give encouragement to feelings of bitterness and take part in campaigns of division based on the manner in which their individual members worship God.

In all matters of religious differences of opinion, Father Doyle's advice is good: Just say "Murphy" and stop right there.

Manitoba Hydro Plan

Provincial Government Has Program
That Will Extend All Over Province

It has been announced that the Manitoba Government is prepared to embark on a programme of Hydro-Electric power transmission line construction that will extend to all parts of the Province—to towns, hamlets, and farms—the Government to pay one half of the cost, including lines already built. Under this new policy there is a guarantee of sufficient power, very low rates, and revenue in the way of rentals for power sites. Thus it has been stated on behalf of the Government, it is possible for the Government to undertake the bonusing of town and farm lines without incurring a dollar of capital debt; without the necessity of increased taxation, and without the risk of large annual deficits. This policy is designed to promote industries throughout the Province and to light the labor and increase the comforts of the farm.

Proof Enough

Scene: A Glasgow railway station. Old Lady (for the twentieth time): Is this really the train for Ayer?

Porter: Well, mum, the board of directors, the stationmaster, the signaller, the guard, the driver, and myself think so, so I suppose it must be!

"Mrs. Green says she can't understand why her husband isn't well and out of the hospital long ago.

"She hasn't seen the nurse who attends him."

Prisoner 859466: "Stone walls do not make a prison."

Prisoner 4487623: "Well, this here concrete seems to do pretty well!"

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quickest, easiest, and the most efficient is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

H. B. Road Nearing Completion

Laying Of Rails Will Be Completed

By Next March

The laying of rails on the Hudson Bay Railway will be completed by next March, Major Graham A. Bell, deputy minister of railways and canals, has announced, but considerable blasting will have to be done before the road can be opened for traffic. The work at Fort Churchill, where modern harbor accommodations and harbor equipment are being installed, is being pushed ahead. It will require another three years to complete this undertaking. Discussing the development of Northern Manitoba, Major Bell stated that there were many evidences of mineralization along the route of the railway, particularly as far north as mileage 200 north of The Pas. He felt that those deposits would play a great part in the opening up of that section of the province. Five thousand men are now employed on the railway and harbor works.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR INDIGESTION

Indigestion Comes With A Run-Down Condition—Relief Comes Through Enriching the Blood—Williams' Pink Pills Make New Blood.

There are many symptoms of indigestion such as acute pain in the abdomen, constipation, bloating and pains in the region of the heart, a dread of food for the misery it causes. Dieting and the use of predigested food may give some relief, but Williams' Pink Pills will help to bring the new blood to the stomach, causing steadily weaker. The work of digestion depends upon the blood and nerves and the only way to get rid of indigestion is to bring the blood to the stomach through the blood, to do the work nature intended it should do. One thorough way to do this is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is well known that when we run down the blood, strengthen the nerves and enable the stomach to do its work with ease and comfort. Neglected indigestion means prolonged misery. If you have not slept well, and are steadily growing weaker, I doctored for months with but with no benefit. One day my husband said all the treatment he had had was no good, why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I consented and he got me a supply. After I had been taking the pills for a week, they were helping me as the pain and resulting tension and I slept better. I gladly continued the use of the pills and in a few months I felt like a new man again. I have not slept well and am steadily growing weaker. I doctored for months with but with no benefit. One day my husband said all the treatment he had had was no good, why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If you need a blood-building tonic begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brooklyn, Ont.

Courtesy Well Rewarded

A happy result of a servant girl's act of courtesy at Leeds has just come to light. Two or three years ago the girl, named Ellen Fellowes, asisted an old lady across a busy street, and at the time the lady took a note of the girl's name and address. Recently Miss Fellowes received a letter advising her of the old lady's death and a bequest of $2,000.

Atheneum Bridge Misery, but Dr. J. E. Kellogg's new remedy will relieve the misery with wireless relief. Blasted as smoke or vapor it reaches the very innermost recesses of the bronchial passages and soothes them, purifies the blood, and restores health. If you know as well how this remedy would help you as do thousands of grateful users, there would be a package in your home tonight. Try it.

A German botanist is reported to have succeeded in producing 40,000 varieties of dandelions. The majority of folk will feel that one variety is nuisance enough.

To safeguard the child from damage that worms cause, use Miller's Worm Powder, the medicine par excellence for worms. This powder will clear the system entirely of worms, will regulate and stimulate the organs injuriously affected by the worms, and encourage healthy operation of the digestive processes. As a vermifuge it can be relied on for its effectiveness.

Hostess (to curate at the children's party): "Will you give them your song now, Mr. Meekin, or shall we allow them to enjoy themselves for another, half-hour?"

Minard's Liniment Invaluable Everywhere.

N. W. U. 1759

Northern Outposts Are

Cheered By Radio

Broadcasting Programs For Benefit Of Lonely Dwellers In Northland

Broadcasting programs to the Far North will be continued this winter, and messages will be sent to those police posts, missions and trading stations which are scattered throughout Canadian territory north of the 60th parallel. The program will begin Saturday night, November 17, at 11 o'clock Eastern standard time, the Canadian Westinghouse Company operating the broadcast in conjunction with allied stations in the United States.

Officials of the Northwest Territories branch of the Department of the Interior said that the success which had attended previous efforts encouraged them to continue. Gratifying results had been obtained, inasmuch as the lives of the men on the lonely outposts of Canada's northern empire had been greatly cheered by the contact with the world.

For the most part, the messages sent are of a personal nature, being expressions of regards from relatives of the men distributed throughout the north.

Another phase of the broadcast is one which assists the department at times in that instructions can be sent to the officials in the north, supplementary to those already given by mail.

A network of wireless stations now extends over the Northland.

People Should Rest More

Habit Would Store Up Reserves Of Health Says Green Surgeon

Sir Berkeley Moynihan, the great surgeon, said that one way to keep young looking is consistently and regularly to allow the nerves to rest.

A quarter of an hour's quiet and relaxation preferably in solitude, immediately after luncheon would store up reserves of health and stamina. When the famous Mayo brothers, the American surgeons, came to spend a holiday with him they never failed after luncheon to go to their rooms for a quarter of an hour's rest in complete isolation.

Another of Sir Berkeley's maxims is that every man when he reaches 60, no matter how well he feels, should take three months' holiday. "Not more than three months for the man with an active mind," he says.

Made Best Guess

Little Albert came home from school with a new book under his arm. It's a prize, mother," he said. "A prize? What for, dear?"

"For natural history. Teacher asked me how many legs an ostrich had and I said three."

"I know that now, mother, but the rest of the class said four, so I was nearest."

Nation-wide Fame. — There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil have not been tried. It is a new and most efficient remedy for sore throat, lame back and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can also be taken internally.

Sawmill For Prince George District

A sawmill to cut crating material for the General Motors of Canada, is in prospect for the Prince George District, Central British Columbia, the Prince George Citizen states. The mill will be located at a point on the Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways. General Motors use approximately 15,000,000 feet of crating annually.

Useful In Camp.—Explorers, surveyors, prospectors and trappers will find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil very useful in camp. When the feet and legs are wet and cold it is well to rub them freely with the Oil and the result will be the prevention of pains in the muscles and tendons. If a cut or sprain be sustained, nothing could be better as a dressing or lotion.

Southern Alberta Sugar Beets

The Barnwell district in Northern Alberta is coming along fast in beet growing, there being about 2,300 acres planted to the succulent crop this fall, producing an average of 11 tons to the acre, but in some cases going as high as 18.

The Guide.—"Yes, it must be over a thousand years old. You can take it from me they don't build such ancient castles nowadays."

Not Always

"I have always felt a prejudice against the word 'lady,'" said a man, doubtless because of its frequent misuse. "I have found that while every lady is a woman, every woman, of course, is not a lady."

ASPIRIN

Perhaps you didn't realize that Aspirin tablets are made to relieve the deep-down rheumatic aches as well as dispel the occasional headache. They do! In cases of neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago; for those pains that penetrate one's very bones, Aspirin tablets offer real relief. Just be sure you are getting the real Aspirin, with Bayer on each tablet and on the box—with proven directions inside. All druggists.

Physicians prescribe Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitation, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trademark.

Salads For Health

Vegetables And Fruit Needed In Winter As Well As Summer

Do not allow yourself to get away from the daily salad habit, now that the weather is getting colder, and some of the usual salad ingredients are not at hand.

Health demands plenty of green vegetables and fresh fruit, in winter time as well as in summer. Here is an exceptionally good little salad that may be prepared at this season—at very little cost, too:

Peel oranges and remove all white skin. Cut into four-inch slices and cut each slice into halves. Dice celery and apple and mix with mayonnaise. Arrange a circle of half-slices of oranges on a lettuce-covered salad plate, fill center with apple and celery mixture, and garnish with celery tips.

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Remover, and it can be used without danger or injury.

Heaviest Wheat Yield

Eight hundred and eighty-eight bushels of wheat from ten acres or 88.8 bushels an acre are reported by Fred Stinn, who farms thirty-five miles east of Calgary. This is the heaviest wheat yield ever recorded in Alberta.

May Become a Burden

Much Happiness Missed When Gathering Health Becomes An Obsession

Wealth can be a burden, as invariably it does. You must always go on and on, making more, once you have started. It is not sufficient to make, say, $50,000 out of a business and they say, "That will do." You cannot stand still. When you have made a good thing out of one business you are impatient to start with the next. Continually, you must fight, for once you are rich your position is being continually assailed. You become obsessed in the fight for its own sake. And in following this obsession, remember, you inevitably forego much of the simpler happiness which might be yours; there is no other way of winning through, and keeping there.

A woman's instinct is that which tells her she is right whether she is or not.

Baby's Colds Best treated without dosing—Just rub on VICKS VAPORUM FOR COLDS OF ALL THE FAMILY

—by covering all perishable goods with Para-Sani Heavy Waxed Paper. Para-Sani moisture-proof texture will keep them fresh until you are ready to use them.

You'll find the Para-Sani sanitary knife-edged carton handy. Or use "Centre Pull" Packs in sheet form for less exacting uses. At grocers, druggists, stationers.

Appleford Paper Products LIMITED

HAMILTON ONT.

Western Representatives:
HUNTER-MARTIN & CO., REGINA, SASK.

PARLIAMENT OF BRITAIN OPENED WITH CEREMONY

London, Eng. — Parliament was formally opened by the king with all the colorful ceremony surrounding the occasion. The session is the last before the next general election. In the speech from the throne, His Majesty expressed gratification at the signing of the anti-war pact, outlined a scheme for relieving agriculture, industry and railways of local taxes, a scheme for enabling railways to reduce charges on basic traffic and a plan to alleviate mining area unemployment by training 20,000 miners a year for agricultural pursuits in the Dominion.

The subsequent debate on the address in reply to the speech was featured by the attack of Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, on the Anglo-French proposals for further naval limitation. He termed it an "agreement not to limit armaments" and pressed Premier Baldwin for a full government statement on the present status of the agreement. The premier, however, pointed out the Labor party was to move an amendment censuring the government on account of the pact and therefore any government statement should be reserved for the debate on this amendment.

In the course of his speech, Mr. MacDonald mentioned the movement of miners to the Canadian harvest fields last August, saying he hoped future migration schemes would indicate more forethought than this one, whose workings he had personally seen in Canada.

"You didn't say that when you were over there," a Conservative member remarked.

Smith Will Retire

From Public Life

Says Quarter Century Of It Has Been Enough

New York.—Governor Smith announces that he never again expected to run for public office as he had more than a quarter of a century in public life and that was enough.

The defeated Democratic presidential nominee expressed this view at a conference with press correspondents.

"I certainly do not expect to run for public office," he said, in reply to a question. "I have been in public life for three-quarters of a century and I had better all I can stand of it. As far as running for office again, that is finished."

The governor said he had no regrets and nothing but pleasant memories over his unsuccessful campaign.

"The American people have rendered their decision," he said. "I am a Democrat and I firmly believe in the rule of the majority."

Storm Sweeps Alaska City

Thirty Thousand Dollar Property Damage Reported At Cordova

Cordova, Alaska.—Proper damage estimated at $30,000 was counted following the worst storm in the history of the city. The greater part of the damage was to the new school building. The roof was blown off, and torrential rains poured into the unprotected building, ruining every room. Flying wreckage from the building broke hundreds of windows.

The wind tore telephone poles from the ground and took the front off a hotel building.

Loses Valuable Horses

Toronto.—Three champion hunters and five young horses which were about to be trained for the saddle, were suffocated when a fire broke out in a stable here. Five of the horses belonged to D. McGregor, well-known Toronto horseman. The champions were Fairplay, Aristocrat, and Slipper. The animals were valued at approximately $10,000.

Air Mail Service Profitable

Montreal.—Justification for airmail passenger service between Montreal and New York via Albany, is found in the statement for October which shows a net profit of $3,000. During the month 35 passengers, 10,885 pounds of mail, representing 34,200 pieces, were carried, and a total of 21,877 miles flown. The gross receipts approximated $17,000.

Will Receive Reward

Montreal.—To anyone who furnishes information aiding the police to arrest and convict a hit-and-run motorist, the province of Quebec will pay a reward of $100.

N. W. U. 1759

Make Arrangements For Important Conference

Agricultural Leaders and Canadian Chamber of Commerce To Meet In Toronto

Montreal.—The conference which agriculture leaders with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is arranging for November 27, in Toronto, is to be an event of economic significance and a forward move in the effort which the chamber is making toward the co-ordination of agriculture and the other business interests of Canada. Dr. John W. Ross, chairman of the executive of the Canadian Chamber, here.

The invitations which have been issued to each of the heads of the provincial departments of agriculture and to the department of agriculture of Ottawa to participate in the round-table conference have in each case been accepted, said Dr. Ross.

Although no set speeches or papers were to be prepared, the agenda would include a frank and friendly discussion at the conference itself on such subjects as the service which could be rendered the agriculturalist through showing him the value of reducing production costs, more efficient farm management, better marketing methods, wider markets and reforestation, and a setting-up of a national agricultural committee of the chamber to advance agriculture in a business-like way.

Navigation Through Hudson Straits Closed

Dispatch From Fort Churchill Indicating Harbor Is Frozen Over

Ottawa.—Navigation through the Hudson Straits is closed for the winter, it was learned at the Department of Marine by wireless dispatch from Fort Churchill, which indicates that the harbor is frozen over and there is ice as far as the eye can reach. As a result the ice breaker Montcalm has been ordered to return to Quebec City from Port Burwell.

For several months the Montcalm has been carrying on ice observations in the North and is the last ship to leave Hudson's Bay.

There is no ice in the straits themselves, it was stated. With the closing up of the harbor at Churchill, however, the work of the Montcalm is completed.

Several men are remaining at the various radio stations throughout the straits and will continue sending reports on ice and fog conditions.

Prosperous Canada

Hon. Peter Heenan Sees Evidences Of Prosperity Everywhere

Toronto.—With evidence of prosperity everywhere apparent Canada is just coming into its own, declared Hon. Peter Heenan, minister of labor, at a meeting here.

Mr. Heenan discussed briefly the question of immigration and old age pensions. The former subject he stressed two considerations as of vital importance in any policy which might be framed, namely to give preference to Britishers and to give only truthful information to those intending to settle here.

The country could have no worse advertisement than to have immigrants write back "home" and say that conditions have been misrepresented to them, he said.

The minister was high in the praise of old age pensions legislation and declared his intention of speaking "up and down the country" until it had been adopted by every province.

Prevention Of Tuberculosis

Changes Are Foreseen In Methods Used To Curb Disease

Toronto.—Various changes of sweeping character in the methods employed to curb tuberculosis throughout Canada are foreseen as a result of the study of European methods made by 32 Canadian doctors, including Dr. J. H. Elliott and Dr. Dobble of Toronto.

One of the possibly outstanding changes will be the development of a Dominion department to have control of tuberculosis prevention work throughout the Dominion, and another equally important innovation probably will be legislation providing for substantial grants for the carrying on of the work.

Entire Family Dies In Fire

Bridgewater, N.S.—An entire family of five persons was wiped out in a fire at South Conguill near here. The dead: Albert Nash, his wife, two children, Annie, 14, and Viola, 11, and Elie Nash, brother of Albert. The tragedy was discovered when a neighbor saw smoke arising from the Nash farm.

HERBERT HOOVER IS ELECTED NEW U. S. PRESIDENT

New York.—Republicans have swept the country from coast to coast. They have enveloped the states bordering on the old solid South. They have driven a wedge into the South itself.

Herbert Hoover has been elected to the presidency in one of the most sweeping landslide ever recorded.

By one of those extraordinary ironies of politics, it was Governor Smith's own state of New York which first wrote his doom. On four occasions New York had given Smith the highest office in its gift. To capture New York state and its 45 electoral college votes the Democrats fought bitterly and strenuously.

Hoover might have lost New York state and still won the presidency; Smith had to win New York state if he was to be the next president of the U.S. New York was to be the nucleus of a Democratic raid into the states of New England and the Atlantic seaboard.

New York City gave its plural to Governor Smith but the upstate Republican vote rolled over it. With 275 districts missing out of 3,267, Hoover was 90,000 ahead.

Democrats, however, found some bright spots in the New York state returns. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who nominated Smith, at Houston, was elected to the governorship over Albert Oettinger by a margin that showed him running well ahead of the Democratic National ticket.

Washington, D.C.—President Coolidge sent congratulations to President-elect Hoover and Vice-president-elect Charles Curtis. His message to Hoover read:

"The success of our party with your election to the presidency and the endorsement of the administration are a great satisfaction to me. With this endorsement I can now retire from office in contentment. I send you my most cordial congratulations on your victory, and to your self and Mrs. Hoover my best wishes in which Mrs. Coolidge joins."

Find Oil Shale In North

Discoveries Are Reported Near Hudson's Bay Junction

The Pas.—Mining men in The Pas district are much interested in reports from Hudson's Bay Junction, Sask., indicating new finds of oil shale 25 miles southeast of that village.

The discoveries have been made in the old Porcupine Hills forest reserve and are close to the Manitoba boundary.

Geologists representing a Toronto engineering company have been on the field for some weeks.

Oil shales found in the new areas are reported to have a greater potential value than the discoveries made in recent years in The Pas hills north of the junction. Tests made of oil shales west of The Pas have been interesting, but no effort has been made to produce oil in that area.

Many Labor Candidates

London, Eng.—Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party, has announced that the party had decided to fight every seat where it had local party organizations prepared to run a candidate at the forthcoming general elections. He estimated that the party would have 600 candidates in the field.

PLENTY OF ROOM IN CANADA

For the wives and families back in the homeland it is often a story of patient waiting while the husbands and fathers win a new start in the Canadian west. But the reunion is happy and the future bright when they are once more joined in the new home. Here is a group comprising two families of Swedish colonists, Mrs. Eriksson with her family of ten children and Mr. Siden with five children, who have just been sent forward by the Canadian National Railways' Colonization Department and the Swedish-American line, to their lands at Junkins, Alberta, one of whom settled here in 1925 and the other last summer. The statement is made that many more Swedish families of this fine type are expected to follow.

FAVORS NORTHERN AERIAL ROUTE

Unsafe To Give Definite Figures On Transportation Costs Until Next March

Ottawa.—Actual transportation costs of the experimental shipments of Alberta and maritime coal to central Canada came before the board of railway commissioners here. The hearing was adjourned sine die on representations of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways that definite figures on the cost of these trial movements would not be available until March next.

The sitting was in conformity with orders-in-council passed by the Dominion government last spring authorizing reimbursement from the federal exchequer to the railway companies for any losses entailed in the $6.75 per ton rate from Alberta to Ontario and the one-fifth of a cent per ton mile reduction in the westward haul of maritime coal. The trial movement authorized covers a period of three years.

Farmers May Decide To Enter Milling Business

Saskatoon, Sask.—"I think the present grading system is plain, unvarnished robbery," was the answer of George H. Williams, vice-president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, when asked for his opinion regarding the grading problem.

In the course of the interview Mr. Williams forecast the day when the farmers, co-operatively, could mill their own wheat and thus gain complete control of their produce.

"The grades are current in the country, the farmers are to my mind a fitting climax to the short-sighted campaign which was carried on by certain newspapers during the summer months, enlarging upon our crop prospects and sending out crop reports seemingly limited only by imagination, which undoubtedly went a long way toward producing a bearish market," Mr. Williams said.

"The present low grades are just putting a finishing touch to it," he continued, "they are taking out of Western Canada millions of dollars which rightfully should remain with the people of Western Canada."

"Do you think the elimination of mixing at the private terminals will solve the problem?" Mr. Williams was asked.

"That brings us to the question of the commission which has just been appointed," was the answer. "It is a pleasure to notice that both our federal and provincial governments are deeply concerned as to the grade of wheat that the British miller is getting under the present mixing system; and to note also that the Saskatchewan government has appointed a commission to investigate the marketing of wheat, the personnel of which ought to satisfy the farmers of Saskatchewan."

"You have asked me, do I think the elimination of mixing will cure all the grading problems. Very frankly, I do not, and I hardly think anyone expects it to. It will, however, remove one of the outstanding evils of the grading system. Official announcement to this effect was made by Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence.

Major-General Thacker will succeed as chief of the general staff, department of national defence, will retire on pension on January 1, next. The retirement of Major-General Thacker follows completion of thirty-five years in the permanent force. Official announcement to this effect was made by Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence.

"Taking the name of the newly appointed commission as an indication of its scope, I would imagine that its investigation would go considerably further than the mixing of wheat in the terminals. Personally, I am of the opinion that the average farmer is worried far more at present over the grade he is getting for his wheat than he is over the British miller's grade.

"The elimination of mixing would undoubtedly give the miller a fairer standard to produce and to, to a certain extent, it would relieve undergrading in that the present mixing system tends to tempt elevator companies to purchase wheat at a low grade in order to make large mixing profits. It certainly will not, however, do away with undergrading completely."

"No system of grading based on the appearance of wheat can result in anything but injustice under certain crop conditions. I find myself in fact in company with thousands of other farmers in just this position. Wheat which yields well over 30 bushels per acre, weighing over 60 pounds to the bushel, containing some green kernels and a slight amount of frost, grading an number 5—a very low grade and at a very low price."

"Yet, I am convinced from the results of tests made by Dr. Burchard, that the flour milled from this wheat will be sold to the consumers, including myself, as grade one flour. It must be apparent to all that wheat graded on appearance only, is not going to solve the problem confronting the wheat grower of the west even if mixing were eliminated."

Asked what there was his solution of the problem, Mr. Williams replied:

"I must confess, in my opinion the solution of the grading problem lies in placing the farmer in the position where he can dispense with it entirely. In other words, place the farmer in a position where he can control his wheat from the time he harvests it until it reaches the consumer in the form of flour."

"Do you think the pool should go into the milling business," the reporter asked Mr. Williams.

"Eventually, I think, the pool will have to go into the milling business," he replied.

Keep Highways Open

Montreal.—Premier Taschereau has announced the provincial government will make an effort to keep the highways of the province open for automobile traffic throughout the winter.

Here and There

(158)
The new Canadian Pacific liner, "Duchess of York," has been launched at Chittenden, and the Hon. Mr. Royal Highness the Duchess of York, H.R.H. the Prince of York and other notables were present. The ship is 200 feet long and the fourth and last of the "Duchess" quartette of steamships built for the service of the St. Lawrence route.

Two hundred Chinchilla rabbits accompanied a ton of special food for their twelve thousand miles journey to Egypt. The rabbits and their food were recently handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company. The little animals were bred in Lincolnshire and are to serve as a pest in the Antipodes special arrangements had to be made to allow them to enter the country.

George Jihavice, son of the Finance Minister, Czechoslovakia, the latest addition to the list of notable farmers, led by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, whose E. P. ranch is only one royal domain among several, including that of the Duke of Sutherland. Young Jihavice, who is only 22 years of age, has settled near Lethbridge, where he is gaining farm experience on the farm of C. R. Daniel before launching out for himself.

Thirty-five visits and departures of Canadian Pacific steamships will be made in and out of the Port of Saint John during the coming winter season, between December 1st and April 20th, the official announcement. This represents an increase of three over the previous season. The two new "Duchess" steamers, the "Duchess of Richmond" and the "Duchess of York," make their first appearance on the sailing list, the former being due in New Brunswick on March 23rd and the latter on March 30th.

The promotion of two of Canada's best known hoteliers to the Canadian Pacific Railway has been announced by the hotel department of the company. B. A. Neale, manager of the Chateau Frontenac, has been appointed manager of the 1,200-room skyscraper hotel in Toronto, the Royal York, which will be the new Canadian headquarters of the Canadian Pacific hotel system. His place in the great hotelery at Quebec will be taken by John Johnston who has been assistant manager at the Chateau for some time.

The distribution of dividend money every three or six months to shareholders of individual and commercial enterprises in Canada runs into many millions of dollars a year. The money goes to an army of people throughout the country, many of whom depend on it for their living and it has much to do with the continued prosperity of Canada. About 88 companies are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange, a small part of the total number of those making regular dividend disbursements in Canada, but the total quantity of this year's 88 companies distributed in dividends over twenty million dollars, of which the Canadian Pacific alone accounts for $7,500,000, is by far the largest distribution by any one company, the next largest being $981,608. The number who regularly benefit by the distribution of profits is increasing every year, showing a more general tendency on the part of the Canadians to invest their earnings in the stocks of well established and sound industrial concerns.

IN BUYING MILKMAID' BREAD

You obtain the finest made bread it is possible to buy. Bread is such an important item in your daily food that you should get THE BEST. For that reason you should buy "MILKMAID," made with the finest ingredients only.

Coleman Bakery
Phone 19

Ladies of the Italian Society
STAR D'ITALIA
will hold a
BAZAAR
on DECEMBER 12
opening at 2 p.m.
Fancy Work, Plain Sewing
Tea will be served.
PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED

What Amount Should You Spend For Advertising?

In view of the seasonal nature of the retailers business it is difficult to arbitrarily set any sum that should be appropriated for advertising purposes. In most lines of business it is the accepted custom to set a regular advertising appropriation so that business promotion can be carried on consistently, and upon a pre-determined scale. This appropriation of course differs according to the nature of the business concerned. Some stores for instance, find it necessary to spend more than others, but what should be the right appropriation is not set by rule or average because few advertise sufficiently and there are no established figures to go upon. However, taking retail business as a whole the average advertising expenditure should be at least 2 per cent of gross annual sales.

What each particular firm will spend depends upon how much its management appreciates the value of advertising. But experience shows that if advertising is carried on judiciously, continuously and sufficiently, it will not only increase the volume more than enough to take care of advertising cost, but will add materially to the yearly profits.

Advertising That Is Not Advertising

One trouble with an appropriation is that any expense which cannot be conveniently paid is unloaded into the advertising account, and as a consequence the appropriation is made to carry an undue burden. There are a number of common items that don't belong to the advertising account at all, these include:-

1. Dues or donations of any kind. Under this head comes churches, schools, good road funds, commercial club memberships, business organizations, lodges dues, baseball or football club donations, special local events and entertainment of customers.

2. The cost of painting the company's name upon trucks, wagons, buildings and similar items.

3. Cost of special services.

The advertising account should not be made the dumping ground for charges rightly belonging to the expense account.

The only answer to the question "When to Advertise?" is the one word "Continually," use more space when you have a special drive on, or when business is not what it should be. The policy of some firms in respect to advertising seems to have been borrowed from the apartment house janitor, whose practice is to keep the radiators scorching with heat on mild days, but let a bitterly cold blistering day come along and the radiators are useful only as adjuncts to a refrigerator. The reasonable thing to do would be to keep the heat going all the time in the season and jump it up on the days when heat is most needed.

The very time to use more publicity is when trade is slow. No firm would think of closing up shop when business was quiet, and the same holds good for advertising. Speed up when business is quiet because then the extra effort is most needed.

Where To Advertise

As a rule the home town paper is the medium through which the largest number of prospective customers can be reached. It pays to make friends with the publisher, and the best way to do this is to give him some business. If properly handled he can give you much free advertising through the news columns of his paper.

The editor can get a good news story out of some new building or home, or of some "inside stuff." He can boast "buy at home" campaigns, tell of the value of good homes, or of the right way to handle heating equipment to get the most value out of it, and incidentally mention your firm as part of the story.

In many ways the local paper can help put your business before the public in an effective way if you will work with the editor. However it is not, always easy to trace results from the newspaper.

Doubtful Advertising Media

Another fault with an advertising appropriation is that it is apt to be overworked by inclusion of media which though correctly classified as advertising, yet, are of problematical value. The money so spent may have some value, but the same amount would be more productive spent in other directions. Such poor media include:

- (1) Hotel registers.
- (2) Restaurant menu cards.
- (3) Club programmes.
- (4) City or county directories.
- (5) Telephone directories.
- (6) Barber shop signs.
- (7) Church bulletins.
- (8) School programmes.
- (9) Big special editions of newspapers.
- (10) A good many novelties.

Professional and Business

Alex M. Morrison

Notary Conveyancer
Fire, Life & Accident Insurance

R. F. Barnes

Barrister and Solicitor

Phone 805 Goleman, Alberta
Residence Phone 249 B

D. A. McLeod, L.D.S., D.D.S.

DENTIST

Office Hours: 9 to 12 a.m., 1 to 6 p.m.

OUIMETTE BLOCK

At Hillcrest Every Monday

Andre Wagon

Diplomed Piano Tuner

Voice—Action Regulating

General Repairing

All Work Guaranteed

(Violin Bows Re-Haired)

Leave word at Journal Office, Coleman

Herb. Snowdon

Real Estate and Insurance

Notary Public & Commissioner for Oaths

PHONE 36 B Coleman

Sentinel Lodge

No. 25

Meet every second and fourth Thursday at 7 p.m.

Visiting Brethren Welcome

Hall is available for rent

Apply to E. C. Clarke, K. P. Block

SUMMIT LODGE

No. 30, A. F. & A. M.

Regular meetings held first Thursday of each month, at 8 p.m.

Visiting Brethren cordially invited

T. E. Flynn, W. M.

Maurice W. Cooke Secretary

General Draying

and

Teaming

Fire Wood for sale

Plante & Antel

East Coleman Property Owners Given Clear Title

People wishing to purchase Lots in East Coleman will be given a Clear Title, to their Property upon payment of same.

W. A. Beebe, H. Snowdon,
Blairmore, Coleman.

The Coleman Lumber Yard

Give us a chance to solve your building problems! We will submit to you lowest prices on anything that you may wish to erect.

Nothing too Big Nothing too Small

We now have a large stock of Rough and Dressed Lumber, Sash and Doors, Cement, Brick, Lime, Plaster, Shingles, Laths, etc., etc.

Compare our Prices. Compare our Stock

J. S. D'Appolonia

Contractor and Builder

Plans and Specifications Furnished

PHONE 259 COLEMAN

TAXI

PHONE

GRAND UNION HOTEL

Closed Pontiac Car

Prompt Service at all hours.

ROLAND CRAYFORD

Miss Milligan of Central School went on to Drumheller to spend Thanksgiving at her home after attending the teachers' convention at Lethbridge.

Remington Portables are used in many homes where the children may become quite expert as well as the adults. Why not consider one as a Christmas present? They are sold for cash or on terms to suit the purchaser, and full particulars may be obtained at The Journal office.

Winter Driving

Do not take a chance on freezing your radiator or cracking your cylinder block when you can avoid all danger by filling up with

Frost Cop, the Guaranteed Anti-Freeze

For Easy Driving

Change Now From Summer to Winter Oil

We have a large stock of Hood and Radiator Covers at LOW PRICES

JUST ARRIVED

A Carload of New Ford Trucks and Cars

COLEMAN GARAGE LIMITED

Coleman Alberta

Cabinet Cigar Store and Barber Shop

Your appearance denotes your inward self--keep a smart appearance by coming regularly to our Barber Shop. People value you as you value yourself.

WINTER

Pacific Coast

Vancouver — Victoria
New Westminster
Tickets on sale certain dates

DEC. 1 to JAN. 5
Return Limit April 15, 1929

Eastern Canada

Tickets on sale
from stations in Sack. Alta.
DEC. 1 to Jan. 5
Return Limit Three Months

Central States

Tickets on sale
from stations in Sack. Alta.
DEC. 1 to Jan. 5
Return Limit Three Months

Old Country

Tickets on sale
from stations in Sack. Alta.
DEC. 1 to JAN. 5
To Atlantic Ports
St. John, Halifax, Portland
Return Limit Five Months

CANADIAN PACIFIC

International

Coal & Coke, Co., Ltd.

Producers of

High Grade Coal and Coke

PROMPT ATTENTION To Local Deliveries

UNANIMOUSLY...

The Choice of Good Taste

ALE
BEER
STOUT

Don't wait for a leisure hour to convince yourself of the outstanding excellence of these malt beverage classics.

BREWED IN ALBERTA

Served at Hotels and Clubs
of ReputeBig Horn Brewing Co., Ltd.
Calgary Brewing & Malting Co., Ltd.
Lethbridge Breweries, Ltd.
New Edmonton Breweries, Ltd.
North West Brewing Co., Ltd.

PHONE YOUR WAREHOUSE

ALBERTA AGENTS

This advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

A Yard and a Fifth of Best Gingham Free

Every sack containing Mother's Flour is made from a yard and a fifth of best quality Gingham, full 36 inches wide. Rip up the sack, wash off the printing with water and you have enough Gingham to make an apron, child's rompers, or other needed things. Better Gingham, too, than you can ordinarily buy.

You will be delighted with Mother's Flour. It is always dependable and of uniform quality because the wheat must pass a rigorous test for milling qualities and food value. Tested also every hour in milling. A splendid all-round household flour—best for bread, cakes and pastry.

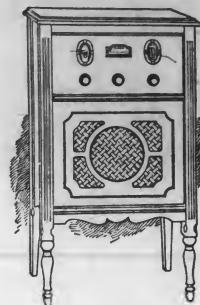

Buy Mother's Flour in Gingham Sacks. You will have the best flour, and the best gingham.

The QUAKER OATS COMPANY
SASKATOON

Mother's flour
IN GINGHAM
REGISTERED TRADE MARK

EVERY SACK GUARANTEED TO GIVE ENTIRE SATISFACTION

9W

LISTEN TO A
Westinghouse RADIOWestinghouse Battery Console
Price without tubes $167.00

For True-to-Life
Tone Quality

EVERY Westinghouse Set will reproduce with fidelity the "true-to-life" tone quality of the music and voice as created in the studio.

You have only to listen to the improved 1929 models to realize the advance Westinghouse has made, in the science of Radio Reception.

One control gives you accuracy and ease of selecting the station you want.

Distant stations brought in with clarity and volume.

Full six tube power at all times.

Selectivity, finely balanced, giving equal performance in the upper and lower wave bands.

New improved cone speaker, developed by Westinghouse.

We will gladly give you a demonstration

AUTHORIZED-WESTINGHOUSE DEALERS

For Batteryless, Battery and the Full Line of Radiola Models

AM

CROWS NEST PASS MOTORS

BLAIRMORE

ALBERTA

WHEN YOU BUY A WESTINGHOUSE YOU OWN THE WORLD'S MOST ADVANCED RADIO

Personal and Local

Lethbridge set a new high record with its sale of poppies at $657.35.

What kind of a town you live in depends on the attitude and energy of the people who live in it.

Mrs. Yates and daughter returned yesterday after visiting relatives in England since July.

Miss Gladys Lees was here from Lethbridge to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with her parents.

Blairmore rink shows a surplus of $140. This is quite unusual for a rink in any town of similar or larger size. Deficits are usually the rule.

The personality or character of a store is usually reflected by its newspaper advertising. Poppy store advertising acts as a tonic to the customer and the advertiser.

The Blairmore Playhouse are staging a three-act play in the Orpheum on Wednesday, Nov. 28, in aid of St. Luke's Anglican church. Reserved seats may be secured at the Blairmore drug store.

Sunday's westbound train was delayed six hours through a freight wreck near Kipp, in which one harvester stealing a ride died from injuries, and two were taken to hospital.

The Lethbridge Herald road race was won this year by John Kerr of Pasbarg. It is of interest to note that the first time this race was run several years ago, it was won by Fred Lees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lees, of Coleman.

Mrs. S. Brocklehurst entertained a number of ladies at a whisky party on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howarth. The prizes were won by Mrs. Price, first; Miss Treffry, second; Mrs. Borden, consolation. After cards dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Brocklehurst returned to Calgary this morning.

For an evening's enjoyment, the moving picture programs at the Palais are worthy of patronage. Undoubtedly it is the most popular form of entertainment, while a feature that is always worth seeing is everybody's weekly the weekly Fox News which gives in pictures a record of important world happenings. We owe much to the pictures as a diversion from the everyday round of toil and care, and quite often they have something of an educational nature to offer.

WOODS Lavender Line

Hosiery, Lingerie, Silk Scarves and Cashmere Scarves

Very Appropriate for Xmas Gifts

Sold only in Coleman at

ANTROBUS' SHOE STORE

ADVERTISING IS ESSENTIAL
SAYS CHAIN STORE OFFICIAL

Independent Dealer Cannot Afford to Cut Down His Advertising in Face of Aggression.

"There is one thing which the independent dealer must do if he is to keep in the race with the chain store, and that is to advertise. It is a great mistake to prune down advertising expenditures as a means of reducing costs. In fact it was not until chain stores began to advertise on a large scale that their real progress began to be made."

This is testified to by Edward Dale, vice-president of one of the large chain groceries. He attributes the present $3,000,000,000 annual sales of the chain stores of the country to the good will of the public engendered by national advertising largely through newspaper mediums. The chain stores are now planning for much larger newspaper publicity over the next few years. The independent certainly cannot afford to cut down his advertising while his greatest competitor, the chain, is planning a further great increase.

The Lethbridge Herald road race was won this year by John Kerr of Pasbarg. It is of interest to note that the first time this race was run several years ago, it was won by Fred Lees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lees, of Coleman.

Jimmy Evans left on Monday morning for Victoria, B.C., after spending the summer at his home here. He will play professional hockey at the capital, having been sold by the Moose Jaw management to the coast team.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul's United Church will hold a bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 24. Keep this date in mind and be sure to attend.

New stock of Woods Lavender Line
Hosiery at Antrobus' Shoe Store.

PAUL LUVERA PUTS
PEP IN HIS RACE
(From Mercury-Citizen, Anacortes, Wash.)

On another page is the display advertisement of Paul Luvera, candidate for councilman-at-large, in the coming city election.

The enterprise and progressiveness in the use of this size space for announcement is characteristic of Paul Luvera as the citizens have come to know him since he embarked in business here a few years ago. Never content to stand still, and always on the lookout for some way to get ahead, "Paul" has more than ordinary recommendations for being a city councilman.

He has a "platform" in his advertisement. Before picking out a councilman from the field it would be well to read his ad and get an idea of where this progressive young business man stands as to Anacortes.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH

Service on Sunday, Nov. 18, evening at 7 p.m.

The J. W. A. held a successful sale on Saturday last. They thank all who contributed or attended, but also feel that the church people with a few exceptions did not support them as they might have done. The winner of the doll was Mrs. J. A. MacLeod with number 19. Part of the money is to be used to purchase supplies for the choir.

No choir practice on Friday of this week.

People wishing to send personal greeting cards to the old country should order same at The Journal office now in order to ensure having them in good time.

Cuticura Treatment For Dandruff

Part the hair and gently rub in Cuticura Ointment until the whole scalp has been treated. Let the Ointment remain on for some time, over night if convenient. Then shampoo with a soda or Cetone Soap and warm water. (Do not rub Soap on the Scalp. Rub the hair only.) A light application of Cuticura Ointment to the scalp between shampoos is often beneficial.

Sample Book Free by Mail. Address Canadian Dept., "Patent Cuticura Ointment," Price, 50c. Ointment 22 and 100c. Talcum 50c.

Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

China has invited the Royal Netherlands, Indies air lines to organize a flight to Java and China. The flight is expected to take place early in 1929.

The Dairy Federal Department of Agriculture reports that for the eight months ending August 31, Canada exported milk and milk products to the value of $18,622,518.

A chair and couch, once the property of Sir John A. Macdonald, Canada's confederation premier, were sold for $3,550 each in a Toronto auction room.

The British Columbia government exhibit for the Royal Winter Fair, consisting of fruits, vegetables, grains, grass seeds and other farm products weighed nearly 14 tons.

Lord Byng, as executor, gets $1,000 under the will of Lady Byng's uncle, Pandell Hall, while Lady Byng herself gets the bulk of the fortune of $57,000.

As another step towards augmenting its new western service, the Western Canada Airway Ltd. have placed two monoplanes in operation on its prairie passenger and express line.

The Japanese war office has asked for an appropriation of $275,000, spread over a three-year period, for use in perfecting air defenses at Kyoto, Osaka and Northern Kyushu.

The post of American ambassador to England may be offered to Myron T. Herrick, present United States ambassador to France, according to an unconfirmed report circulated in Paris.

The treasury board and cabinet council having approved the absorption of the Standard Bank of Canada by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, or recommendation of the minister of finance, the Standard Bank has gone out of existence.

Worms feed upon the vitality of children and endanger their lives. A simple and effective remedy if Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Furnished Some News

"Look, Tita; something about me in the paper?"

"Really? What does it say?"

"It says, 'In the month of July the trolley company carried 15,738,626 passengers—well, I was one of them, wasn't I?'"

Professor A. (in high-powered car racing madly round a bend)— "We've got it at last!"

Professor B. "G-g-got w-w-what?"

Professor A. "Perpetual motion. I c-can't stop this car."

Fall and Christmas Sailings to

England—Ireland—Scotland
France—Belgium

When you visit the old folks this Fall, enjoy the unsurpassed comfort, convenience and service of a White Star Ship.

Lowest Rates of the Year
Montreal—Quebec—Baltimore—Liverpool

Regina Nov. 17
Laurentine Nov. 24
Montreal—Saskatoon—Huron—Lethbridge
Megantic Nov. 22
Halifax—Montreal—Quebec—Montreal—Antrim
Pennland Dec. 2
Lapland Dec. 9
Halifax—Quebec—Montreal—Liverpool
Baltic Dec. 10
Montreal—Quebec—Montreal—Liverpool

Regina Dec. 15
Special Conducted Trains
Winnipeg Direct to Steamers
For complete information, phone 470-5000.

224 St. Paul Street, Suite 1000, Man.
Land Bldg., Calgary, Alta.
Canada Bldg., Saskatoon
Prest. Bldg., Vancouver, B.C.

261

WHITE STAR LINE
CANADIAN SERVICE

N. W. U. 1759

Only One Chance In Thirty-Six Billion

Farmer In Manitoba Loads Wheat Twice In Same Car

There is one chance in thirty-six billion of it happening again.

At the town of Argue, Manitoba, on September 20, a farmer named R. R. Sommerville, loaded part of his crop of Number 2 Durum into Canadian National Car No. 428371. The car went to the head of the lakes, was emptied and started west again. On October 1, eleven days later, it left the same station, Argue, loaded with grain from the fields of the same farmer, C. Sommerville. This time the wheat was Number 4 Durum, but the car was the same and, the farmer was the same.

T. F. White, Canadian National Railways superintendent of car service, thinks the incident is a reflection on the smoothness with which the great machine of agriculture, handling millions of bushels, is running. But he feels that it will never happen again in his lifetime.

From statistics as to the number of box cars and shipping stations in the west, and taking an average of 75 farmers, who might possibly load at a point like Argue, it has been calculated that there is one chance in thirty-six billion of a car going back to the same shipper at the same point.

Don't fall in love—the fall may break your heart!

Can Be Quickly Banished With Baby's Own Tablets

The ailments of childhood are many but nine-tenths of them are due to one cause and one cause only—a disorder of the bowels.

To quickly banish any of the minor ailments of childhood the bowel must be made to work quickly and the stomach not be overtaxed.

Other no medicine for little ones has had such success as has Baby's Own Tablets. They banish constipation and indigestion, break colds and colic and promote healthy sleep by regulating the functions of the stomach and bowels. Concerning them Dr. M. C. Walton, N.S. writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Baby's Own Tablets as I have working on his father's farm."

The Willingdon team will proceed to Calgary where they will compete with the winners of the Canadian Pacific Railway competition in the southern part of the province, for the trophy awarded to the highest scoring team from any point along Canadian Pacific railway lines in Alberta, and a trip to the Toronto Royal as a reward for their efforts.

Local officials of the railway companies, of Provincial and Dominion departments of agriculture and livestock interests, are well pleased with the successful results of the Boys and Girls' Club work during the past season, and credit is given to these clubs for much of the improvement noted in recent years in the quality of hogs shipped to market from many districts in the province.

A Snappy Comeback

Mum—Forgot it—huh! Halways forgettin', you are! Tell you men anything and it goes in one ear the hot the other. Dad (stung to protest)—Tell you women anything, said by gum, it goes in both ears, and never stops coming out your bloomers' mouths.

Family trees aren't like others. In others, appearance of the sap is an indication of continued vigor.

Minard's Liniment Heals Cuts and Bruises.

Loud Speaking Airplanes

New Form Of Advertising Making Cities More Noisy

The advance of aviation has brought with it one development that cannot be regarded with equanimity.

In New York certain airplanes equipped with loud speakers fly over the city and indulge in outdoor advertising at its worst. Voices from these flying loud speakers bawl forth the merits of this or that face cream, movie, cigarette or what-not in a manner that can be heard all over the town. There is no escape from it. Any one in the streets below gets this raucous appeal to buy drummed into his helpless ears, whether he likes it or not.

Our cities are noisy enough now.

It might be a good thing to see if the statutes governing public nuisances cover the case.

Took Drastic Measures

The fact recently has come to light that the very oldest newspaper in existence is, or was, the official "Fekete Gazelle," which is said to have been produced continuously for more than a thousand years. But this Methuselah among newspapers not only claims an honorable old age.

It claims a record in martyrsdom as well. It is credibly stated that during its publication no fewer than 1,500 of the paper's editors have been executed. If this is correct, just imagine what the slaughter must have been among reporters.

Husband (reading latest about radio-television): "My word! This opens up some wonderful possibilities, dear."

Wife—"Yes, my love! Won't it be nice for me to be able to sit here and watch you working in your office when you're kept there at nights?"

Grocer—"Yes, lady, these eggs are fresh from the country."

Suspicious Customer—"What country?"

Badger Skins Are Valuable

Peels Should Be Taken in the Right Season, However

Badger skins, if taken off animals at the right season, and not spoiled in handling, are now quite valuable. At the recent fur auction in Winnipeg the best badger skin sold for $52.00, and a good average skin is worth, perhaps, about $20.00 to $25.00. But many people are taking these pelts during the late summer and fall, when the skins are worthless, or practically so. Badger skins are most valuable after the animals have come out of their winter retirement. Skins taken in the spring are valuable; those taken in the fall are almost worthless. About twenty thousand badger skins are marketed annually in the three Prairie Provinces.

Prominent Health Officials

Four prominent Canadian health officials have been appointed to the Connaught Laboratories Fellowship in the School of Hygiene, of the University of Toronto. They are Dr. R. Jenkins, Edmonton; Dr. F. W. Jackson, Winnipeg; Dr. F. S. Leader, Battleford, Sask.; Dr. E. W. Maden, Kitchener, N.S.

The following were established last year for the purpose of increasing the number of public health workers in Canada.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

Second Prize In C.P.R. Competition Is Won By Members Of Club At Willingdon

First prize in the Canadian Pacific Railway Competition in the Boys and Girls' Club show for Northern Alberta, won by Parfait Lauzon and Harry Styrnaka, members of the Swine Club, at Willingdon, on the new Canadian Pacific Railway Cutknife-Whitford line.

Second prize went to Benny Flades and Berrie Kobilitz, of the Hardinge Club, and third, Thurston Smith and Erwin Bergf, of the Sedgewick Club.

Handsome medals were presented to members of the winning team by Superintendent George Fox, of the Edmonton Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Both members of the team are of Ukrainian descent and are sons of prosperous farmers in the district.

Each of the boys is 17 years old. Strynaka is in grade ten at Desjardins school, and Lazaruk is working on his father's farm.

The Willingdon team will proceed to Calgary where they will compete with the winners of the Canadian Pacific Railway competition in the southern part of the province, for the trophy awarded to the highest scoring team from any point along Canadian Pacific railway lines in Alberta, and a trip to the Toronto Royal as a reward for their efforts.

The Willingdon team will proceed to Calgary where they will compete with the winners of the Canadian Pacific Railway competition in the southern part of the province, for the trophy awarded to the highest scoring team from any point along Canadian Pacific railway lines in Alberta, and a trip to the Toronto Royal as a reward for their efforts.

Great duties are before me, and great gods, And when I fall, And when I'm crowned or crownless

It matters not, so as God's work is done."—Alexander Smith.

Paul's Address, 2130 to 221—

Always Reliable
Sold by all Grocers

Blue Ribbon Tea
250 Cups to the Pound
Blue Ribbon Coffee
In 1 lb. Vacuum Tins

THE CRIMSON
WEST

— BY —
ALEX PHILIP

Published by Special Arrangement
With Thomas Allen, Publisher,
Toronto, Ont.

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

"Thank you," the older man replied. "Our population is made up of people from all parts of the world, as our native-born are few. A cosmopolite is more or less indifferent to the future of the country in which he resides. 'Get the money' is unfortunately the slogan of many of our business men, who make no attempt to build for the future. Until such time as there is ingrained in the hearts of our citizens a true love for our Province; until such time as our cities and towns forget petty bickerings and jealousies and work together and harmoniously, then—and only then—will British Columbia become what Nature intended, the crowning jewel of the British Empire."

Jane's guests arrived in groups of two and three until about twenty of Vancouver's younger set were scattered about the large rooms. In introducing Donald to her friends Janet felt a warm glow of satisfaction as she saw the many glances of keen interest directed toward her stranger guest.

A slender girl with elaborately coiffed golden hair, looking like a white butterfly, fluttered to Jane's side and shook a reproving finger in her face. "Fess up now, Janet," she pouted; "how long have you been hiding this handsome man? Who is this Prince Charming?"

"Curiosity killed the cat," was Janet's evasive reply.

Donald had no penchant for social functions, but this lively party was a grateful respite from a whole winter of lonely evenings, and he entered the spirit of the occasion whole-heartedly.

A game of whist and then the big room was cleared and they danced until a late hour. At Donald's request Janet sang for them. Her rich contralto seemed to fill the room and set the air pulsing with sweet harmony. She sang a song of love and passion that seemed to bear Donald into another world. As he turned the final sheet and the last liquid note travelled through the room he rocked himself as though from a spell. That voice! How strangely it affected him! He looked down to find Jane's dark eyes fixed on his.

"Will you please sing again?" he implored.

"The same?" she questioned softly.

He nodded. Donald's gaze travelled from the flying white fingers to the lovely face of the singer. As their eyes met Janet's face flushed slightly, and at the finish of the verse she

HELPED DURING MIDDLE AGE

Woman Praised Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound

Sarnia, Ont.—"I am willing to answer letters from other women, to tell them the wonderful good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. I cannot be thankful enough for the help I received during the Change of Life. I do housework and my troubles made me unable to do it. My friend advised me to try the Vegetable Compound. I felt great relief at once, began to regain strength and my nerves got better. I will recommend your medicine to all with troubles like I had."—Mrs. JOHN BENSON, 162 N. Christina St., Sarnia, Ontario.

N. W. IL 1724

changed quickly to a rolling song of the sea. "All join in," she called merrily over her shoulder.

After Janet's other guests had departed Donald, Douglas and Janet sat for an hour chatting by the large fire-place.

"May I go with you as far as Squamish tomorrow?" asked Janet. "Certainly, Sis."

"And when the railroad is through I will visit you," she added.

Douglas looked at her curiously. Janet abhorred roughing it. Riding alone on Stanley Park and an occasional game of tennis comprised the extent of her outdoor activities. Douglas glanced at the clock and came quickly to his feet. "I'd better hustle you home, Donald," he said, "as we have to be up early."

The tinted shade of the hall light cast a soft radiance to the dark beauty of Janet's face and gave to her eyes a deep and languorous glow.

"I have enjoyed every moment. Thank you so much," Donald said earnestly.

"I'm glad," she answered in a quiet voice.

He took her hand and held it in a strong pressure. "I'll see you in the morning!"

"Yes," she murmured softly.

The door closed gently and Janet heard him run down the steps to the whirling motor. She stood immovable until the sound of the car died in the distance, then walked meditatively to the fireplace, sank to a big chair and stared dreamily into the dying embers. Idly she reached for the evening paper and spread it on her lap.

"Such dignity and poise! He is wonderful!" she whispered aloud. "I must ask Douglas more about him."

She lowered her eyes to the paper, then came slowly to her feet, a look of blank amazement on her face. Smiling up at her was the face of the world's top-notchers."

"Pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

Douglas avoided Donald's direct gaze. He leaned over to fumble needlessly with the straps of his duffel bags. "She's peevish; saw your photograph in last night's paper."

"I'm sorry," said Donald, obviously distressed.

"Janet makes me tired," said Douglas irritably. "What if you did tell Garriehan? What difference does it make?"

"Your sister's view-point is different," answered Donald gloomily. "You must be curious to know more about me, Doug, yet you have never asked any questions."

"I have often wondered," admitted Douglas; "but if you wished me to know you would tell me. I don't give a hang who you are or what you are. You suit me."

"Thanks, Doug."

The shrill blast of the steamer's whistle smote their ears.

"Ere, you blighters!" shouted Andy from the top deck, "are you going on this blinkin' picke?"

The line was cast off, the water took up the steamer's stain. They backed slowly from the dock, went about and headed for the Narrows. The scores of screaming gulls that accompanied them hovered over the deck, their keen eyes on the lookout for any bits of waste food that should fall in the steamer's wake. Boats piled in and out, every kind of craft from small fishing-boat to ocean liner.

A bright sun, beaming with all the warmth and splendour of full morning, bathed inlet and mountain in wide shower of gold. A strong westering wind bucked an outgoing tide, the foam of tossing wave crests flashing white in the sunlight. The tumbling combers hissed and crashed against the sturdy bow of the boat, causing her to pitch jerkily.

The salt breeze whiped a glow into the faces of the party gathered near the pilot-house and strummed noisily through the masts and superstructure. A yacht-like passenger steamer from Victoria, painted, a pure white, swept past them, a smoother of salt at her bow. A rakishly-built tug trudged cityward with a huge raft of logs in tow, a pillar of ink smoke streaming over her bow.

As they passed the steamer wall of Prospect Point, Donald's thought reverted to his first meeting with Janet. Douglas, who had been studying the shore through binoculars, passed the glasses to Donald and pointed to the bluff. At first he saw nothing of special interest and turned to gaze at Douglas inquiringly.

"Janet," said Douglas softly.

Sure enough, he saw a horse and rider on the highest point etched in a miniature against the dark green woods. Douglas waved a handkerchief, and Donald caught a flutter or white from the dizzy promontory. His mind was filled with conjectures. Why was she there? Had she still a kindly heart? He hoped she had.

Jane could not herself have any particular reason for being there. She was up early, stolidly quiet to the stable, saddled her horse and rode to the Park. Riding steadily all the morning, she had battled with herself and summoned all her courage to ride past the steamer. Janet was the man of whom she had been dreaming.

"CANADIAN CHAMPION"

"New Canadian champion, whose spectacular defeat of Garriehan stamps him as a master of fistfights and places him in line to meet the world's top-notchers."

"A pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VIII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

Douglas avoided Donald's direct gaze. He leaned over to fumble needlessly with the straps of his duffel bags. "She's peevish; saw your photograph in last night's paper."

"I'm sorry," said Donald, obviously distressed.

"Janet makes me tired," said Douglas irritably. "What if you did tell Garriehan? What difference does it make?"

"I have often wondered," admitted Douglas; "but if you wished me to know you would tell me. I don't give a hang who you are or what you are. You suit me."

"Thanks, Doug."

The shrill blast of the steamer's whistle smote their ears.

"Ere, you blighters!" shouted Andy from the top deck, "are you going on this blinkin' picke?"

The line was cast off, the water took up the steamer's stain. They backed slowly from the dock, went about and headed for the Narrows. The scores of screaming gulls that accompanied them hovered over the deck, their keen eyes on the lookout for any bits of waste food that should fall in the steamer's wake. Boats piled in and out, every kind of craft from small fishing-boat to ocean liner.

A bright sun, beaming with all the warmth and splendour of full morning, bathed inlet and mountain in wide shower of gold. A strong westering wind bucked an outgoing tide, the foam of tossing wave crests flashing white in the sunlight. The tumbling combers hissed and crashed against the sturdy bow of the boat, causing her to pitch jerkily.

The salt breeze whiped a glow into the faces of the party gathered near the pilot-house and strummed noisily through the masts and superstructure. A yacht-like passenger steamer from Victoria, painted, a pure white, swept past them, a smoother of salt at her bow. A rakishly-built tug trudged cityward with a huge raft of logs in tow, a pillar of ink smoke streaming over her bow.

As they passed the steamer wall of Prospect Point, Donald's thought reverted to his first meeting with Janet. Douglas, who had been studying the shore through binoculars, passed the glasses to Donald and pointed to the bluff. At first he saw nothing of special interest and turned to gaze at Douglas inquiringly.

"Janet," said Douglas softly.

Sure enough, he saw a horse and rider on the highest point etched in a miniature against the dark green woods. Douglas waved a handkerchief, and Donald caught a flutter or white from the dizzy promontory. His mind was filled with conjectures. Why was she there? Had she still a kindly heart? He hoped she had.

Jane could not herself have any particular reason for being there. She was up early, stolidly quiet to the stable, saddled her horse and rode to the Park. Riding steadily all the morning, she had battled with herself and summoned all her courage to ride past the steamer. Janet was the man of whom she had been dreaming.

"CANADIAN CHAMPION"

"New Canadian champion, whose spectacular defeat of Garriehan stamps him as a master of fistfights and places him in line to meet the world's top-notchers."

"A pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VIII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

Douglas avoided Donald's direct gaze. He leaned over to fumble needlessly with the straps of his duffel bags. "She's peevish; saw your photograph in last night's paper."

"I'm sorry," said Donald, obviously distressed.

"Janet makes me tired," said Douglas irritably. "What if you did tell Garriehan? What difference does it make?"

"I have often wondered," admitted Douglas; "but if you wished me to know you would tell me. I don't give a hang who you are or what you are. You suit me."

"Thanks, Doug."

The shrill blast of the steamer's whistle smote their ears.

"Ere, you blighters!" shouted Andy from the top deck, "are you going on this blinkin' picke?"

The line was cast off, the water took up the steamer's stain. They backed slowly from the dock, went about and headed for the Narrows. The scores of screaming gulls that accompanied them hovered over the deck, their keen eyes on the lookout for any bits of waste food that should fall in the steamer's wake. Boats piled in and out, every kind of craft from small fishing-boat to ocean liner.

A bright sun, beaming with all the warmth and splendour of full morning, bathed inlet and mountain in wide shower of gold. A strong westering wind bucked an outgoing tide, the foam of tossing wave crests flashing white in the sunlight. The tumbling combers hissed and crashed against the sturdy bow of the boat, causing her to pitch jerkily.

The salt breeze whiped a glow into the faces of the party gathered near the pilot-house and strummed noisily through the masts and superstructure. A yacht-like passenger steamer from Victoria, painted, a pure white, swept past them, a smoother of salt at her bow. A rakishly-built tug trudged cityward with a huge raft of logs in tow, a pillar of ink smoke streaming over her bow.

As they passed the steamer wall of Prospect Point, Donald's thought reverted to his first meeting with Janet. Douglas, who had been studying the shore through binoculars, passed the glasses to Donald and pointed to the bluff. At first he saw nothing of special interest and turned to gaze at Douglas inquiringly.

"Janet," said Douglas softly.

Sure enough, he saw a horse and rider on the highest point etched in a miniature against the dark green woods. Douglas waved a handkerchief, and Donald caught a flutter or white from the dizzy promontory. His mind was filled with conjectures. Why was she there? Had she still a kindly heart? He hoped she had.

Jane could not herself have any particular reason for being there. She was up early, stolidly quiet to the stable, saddled her horse and rode to the Park. Riding steadily all the morning, she had battled with herself and summoned all her courage to ride past the steamer. Janet was the man of whom she had been dreaming.

"CANADIAN CHAMPION"

"New Canadian champion, whose spectacular defeat of Garriehan stamps him as a master of fistfights and places him in line to meet the world's top-notchers."

"A pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VIII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

Douglas avoided Donald's direct gaze. He leaned over to fumble needlessly with the straps of his duffel bags. "She's peevish; saw your photograph in last night's paper."

"I'm sorry," said Donald, obviously distressed.

"Janet makes me tired," said Douglas irritably. "What if you did tell Garriehan? What difference does it make?"

"I have often wondered," admitted Douglas; "but if you wished me to know you would tell me. I don't give a hang who you are or what you are. You suit me."

"Thanks, Doug."

The shrill blast of the steamer's whistle smote their ears.

"Ere, you blighters!" shouted Andy from the top deck, "are you going on this blinkin' picke?"

The line was cast off, the water took up the steamer's stain. They backed slowly from the dock, went about and headed for the Narrows. The scores of screaming gulls that accompanied them hovered over the deck, their keen eyes on the lookout for any bits of waste food that should fall in the steamer's wake. Boats piled in and out, every kind of craft from small fishing-boat to ocean liner.

A bright sun, beaming with all the warmth and splendour of full morning, bathed inlet and mountain in wide shower of gold. A strong westering wind bucked an outgoing tide, the foam of tossing wave crests flashing white in the sunlight. The tumbling combers hissed and crashed against the sturdy bow of the boat, causing her to pitch jerkily.

The salt breeze whiped a glow into the faces of the party gathered near the pilot-house and strummed noisily through the masts and superstructure. A yacht-like passenger steamer from Victoria, painted, a pure white, swept past them, a smoother of salt at her bow. A rakishly-built tug trudged cityward with a huge raft of logs in tow, a pillar of ink smoke streaming over her bow.

As they passed the steamer wall of Prospect Point, Donald's thought reverted to his first meeting with Janet. Douglas, who had been studying the shore through binoculars, passed the glasses to Donald and pointed to the bluff. At first he saw nothing of special interest and turned to gaze at Douglas inquiringly.

"Janet," said Douglas softly.

Sure enough, he saw a horse and rider on the highest point etched in a miniature against the dark green woods. Douglas waved a handkerchief, and Donald caught a flutter or white from the dizzy promontory. His mind was filled with conjectures. Why was she there? Had she still a kindly heart? He hoped she had.

Jane could not herself have any particular reason for being there. She was up early, stolidly quiet to the stable, saddled her horse and rode to the Park. Riding steadily all the morning, she had battled with herself and summoned all her courage to ride past the steamer. Janet was the man of whom she had been dreaming.

"CANADIAN CHAMPION"

"New Canadian champion, whose spectacular defeat of Garriehan stamps him as a master of fistfights and places him in line to meet the world's top-notchers."

"A pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VIII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

Douglas avoided Donald's direct gaze. He leaned over to fumble needlessly with the straps of his duffel bags. "She's peevish; saw your photograph in last night's paper."

"I'm sorry," said Donald, obviously distressed.

"Janet makes me tired," said Douglas irritably. "What if you did tell Garriehan? What difference does it make?"

"I have often wondered," admitted Douglas; "but if you wished me to know you would tell me. I don't give a hang who you are or what you are. You suit me."

"Thanks, Doug."

The shrill blast of the steamer's whistle smote their ears.

"Ere, you blighters!" shouted Andy from the top deck, "are you going on this blinkin' picke?"

The line was cast off, the water took up the steamer's stain. They backed slowly from the dock, went about and headed for the Narrows. The scores of screaming gulls that accompanied them hovered over the deck, their keen eyes on the lookout for any bits of waste food that should fall in the steamer's wake. Boats piled in and out, every kind of craft from small fishing-boat to ocean liner.

A bright sun, beaming with all the warmth and splendour of full morning, bathed inlet and mountain in wide shower of gold. A strong westering wind bucked an outgoing tide, the foam of tossing wave crests flashing white in the sunlight. The tumbling combers hissed and crashed against the sturdy bow of the boat, causing her to pitch jerkily.

The salt breeze whiped a glow into the faces of the party gathered near the pilot-house and strummed noisily through the masts and superstructure. A yacht-like passenger steamer from Victoria, painted, a pure white, swept past them, a smoother of salt at her bow. A rakishly-built tug trudged cityward with a huge raft of logs in tow, a pillar of ink smoke streaming over her bow.

As they passed the steamer wall of Prospect Point, Donald's thought reverted to his first meeting with Janet. Douglas, who had been studying the shore through binoculars, passed the glasses to Donald and pointed to the bluff. At first he saw nothing of special interest and turned to gaze at Douglas inquiringly.

"Janet," said Douglas softly.

Sure enough, he saw a horse and rider on the highest point etched in a miniature against the dark green woods. Douglas waved a handkerchief, and Donald caught a flutter or white from the dizzy promontory. His mind was filled with conjectures. Why was she there? Had she still a kindly heart? He hoped she had.

Jane could not herself have any particular reason for being there. She was up early, stolidly quiet to the stable, saddled her horse and rode to the Park. Riding steadily all the morning, she had battled with herself and summoned all her courage to ride past the steamer. Janet was the man of whom she had been dreaming.

"CANADIAN CHAMPION"

"New Canadian champion, whose spectacular defeat of Garriehan stamps him as a master of fistfights and places him in line to meet the world's top-notchers."

"A pugilist! And she had proudly introduced him to her friends! Why hadn't Douglas told her? She threw herself into a chair and gave herself over to a period of gloomy contemplation.

Whistling softly Douglas shut off the hall light and entered the room. "Not in bed yet? You'd better—He broke off suddenly as she turned cold eyes upon him.

"Why didn't you tell me that your friend is a pugilist?" she demanded as she thrust the offending sheet in Douglas's hand. "In the glove building she went on sarcastically.

"That may be your idea of a joke, but I don't see anything funny about it." And without waiting for an answer she lunged herself angrily from the room.

Douglas lit a cigarette, which he smoked with short angry puffs as he walked the floor. He kicked violently at an inoffensive footstool and sent it hurtling across the room. "Damn!" Then throwing the half-smoked cigarette in the fireplace, he switched off the light and sought his bed.

CHAPTER VIII.

In spite of the late hour of his retiring, Donald was up early and was the first of the party to reach the dock. Gillis and Andy arrived soon after, the latter staggering manfully under his heavy pack, a rifle swinging loosely in his hand.

Douglas stepped forward as Douglas appeared. His face fell as he saw that he was alone. "Isn't your sister coming?" he asked.

SAVE with SAFETY
at your
Rexall
DRUG STORE

Rexall

Beef, Wine and Iron

$1.00

Full
Pint

Builds up your strength; hastens convalescence after fevers and wasting diseases. For those who want "pep."

A pleasantly flavored elixir which has stood the test. An ideal food tonic.

H. C. McBurney
the Rexall Drug Store

Coleman Alberta

John! If you must inhale your soup, please try to get in time with the music.

Personal and Local

Big as the Heart of Humanity is "Four Sons," at the Palace Fri.-Sat.

Miss Verna McDonald was attending the teachers' convention at Lethbridge.

George A. Brown spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Read at Pincher.

Mr. S. Brocklehurst of Calgary spent the weekend with Mrs. Brocklehurst, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howarth.

A man was admitted to hospital on Monday suffering from a badly lacerated hand caused by a pick in the mine.

Coleman's "Woolworth's" opened up last Saturday and was quite a centre of interest. The line of novelties and other goods proved quite an attraction for the children.

A meeting of the St. John Ambulance Association was held in the Central school on Sunday, to organize classes for the winter season. Dr. Borden will again be lecturer.

Miss Margaret Allen, who during the winter was assisting in the post office, has gone to north of Cowley, where she has been engaged as a private teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Houghton and children, of Calgary, accompanied by Mrs. M. Hyslop, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Houghton.

At the Oddfellows whist drive on Saturday evening the prize-winners were Max Stegler and T. W. Williams, gents; Mrs. J. Richards and Mrs. T. Barnes, ladies. Twenty-five tables were in play, 65 poppies were donated to the ladies by the Oddfellows, and 35 were sold to the gents, thus helping to swell the receipts of the poppy day campaign put on by the Canadian Legion.

Andrew Dow and Albert Sapeta are out this week on a deer hunt in the mountains north of Coleman.

Rev. A. D. Currie went to Calgary on Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Diocesan executive committee.

Laslett & Kerr call your attention to their week-end specials, which they are making a regular feature of at their store. See advt. in this issue.

The annual meeting for nomination of officers for the local branch of the Canadian Legion was held on Monday, and the names of those elected will be given next week following the election.

Mrs. Graham Sr. recently visited her son at Edmonton, and on her way back stopped off at Lacombe to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Graham, who she states are well pleased with their move to Lacombe.

Every issue of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is worth the year's subscription price to the farmers of Canada, and farmers' families rejoice in getting the addition of a superb magazine.

Quite a number of local ladies of the Eastern Star went to Hillcrest last week to attend the inauguration of the chapter there, which was presided over by the Worthy Grand Matron.

Sadie Dickson left on Monday evening for Cadomin, Alta., where she will reside with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McMillan. Mrs. Alex McKinnon and children expect to leave shortly for Drumheller.

A subscriber called in the office this week, and stated that he had heard adverse comments on the absence of lights on Coleman business streets. For every one that mentions it there must be at least a hundred who notice it but have come to the conclusion that to talk about it is just wasting their energy. However, sometime, some day, we will have them. Persistence will eventually win the day.

Tenders for Street Lighting

Tenders will be received by the Town of Coleman for the assembling and erecting of 14 Light Brackets on main street, for further particulars call at Town Hall. All tenders to be in not later than Nov. 21.

Here and There

(166)
Employment officials at Regina state that out of the 6,000 British harvest hands brought to Saskatchewan at least 75 per cent. will remain in the West to become permanent Canadian citizens.

A 700-pound sea cow was shot the other day on the shore of Sea Cow Pound, Prince Edward Island, an animal which once swarmed with these great sea animals in numbers but which are now a rarity. The animal was bought by a Summerside manufacturer concerned which used the hide for leather, the flesh for fox meat and the fat for lubricating oil.

A wool pool in Alberta is now a pool of pools. It is known to have many a number of representatives of the industry in this province the other day and the subject was opened up in a practical way. It will likely come before the executive council for further consideration in the future. The Government has been interested in all our efforts by way of advertising and encouraging.

The Department of Public Works at Ottawa will shortly invite tenders for the first part of the public undertakings, designed to make Prescott, Ont., the transfer terminal for the traffic of the northern outports at Prince. It is estimated at approximately $5,000,000, covering rail facilities, docks and elevators. It is understood that the plan will be to lease the property for the railway layout in which both the large railway companies are concerned.

The Lord Nelson Hotel, containing 200 rooms and decorated in the Georgian style, has just been opened in Halifax, Nova Scotia, the largest city in the British Empire. The opening ceremonies were marked by a dinner given by the Board of Trade to E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Up to date in every particular and quietly and tastefully decorated, the period of design inspired by the Georgian period will fill a long felt want in the province.

Snow and dog teams are lacking in "His Destiny," a seven reel film produced by British Canadian Pictures Limited of Calgary, stated Mr. Wenzek, general manager of the company. The mountain scenes shot around Banff and Lake Louise are the finest high-grade possible for an indoor picture. Mr. and Mrs. The Governor General and Lady Willingdon appear in the part showing the Calgary Stampede, and 800 horses are used in a round up scene in this all Canadian film.

An interesting and remarkable feat in railroad engineering is now being completed by the Canadian Pacific Railway near Toronto. Span by span the old steel bridge built in 1888 is being dismantled and replaced by a heavier bridge resting on a new pier. The piers without piers without causing any interruption in traffic. During a six hour interval the train schedule during the day time, trains and ties are ripped up, an old span removed, and a new section weighing 45 tons is swung into place by a great crane especially constructed for the purpose. The short gap left between the new and the old spans is temporarily filled by a special girder, new ties are laid and the train passes over. The old bridge is open to trains again. Preparations are then made to tackle the next of the thirteen spans.

The number of diehards of English, Walton, Canadian and American, who have piled rod and reel in Canadian waters during the past season is greater than ever before, states A. O. Seymour, general tourist manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal, in announcing the winners of the Ontario-Junglow camp fishing trophy competition. Frank P. Johnson, of Muskegon, Michigan, won the Nipigon River contest for speckled trout. Edmund Sheehan of Chicago won the French River "muskeg" prize, while Kip of Winkler caught the largest bass entered in the Devil's Gap camp competition.

England will have enough Canadian apples shortly to keep the doctor away for the next year, if there is any truth in the proverb, as ships sailing for the old country are loaded with them. Many boxes of souvenirs apples are sent by Canadians to their friends overseas. This has been the custom for the past few years and according to a recent circular from the foreign department of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, it is becoming increasingly popular. So great has been the demand for Canadian apples that a number are shipped to Europe that receivers throughout the country now have standard size boxes for shipping and special low rates are granted by the express company.

ORDER NOW — Personal Greeting Cards, and have them in good time to send overseas. Ask for sample book at journal office or Phone 209.

LEOSKY, LEDIEU & CO.

PHONE 232 - Ouimetette Block

SPECIALS

Good only for November 16, 17 and 18

Canned Vegetables

Orechard City Peas, 2's, 6 tins for	$1.00
Frankfort Corn, 2's, 6 tins for	$1.00
Hawthorn Farm Tomatoes, 24's, 6 tins	$1.00
Lisby's Pork and Beans, 8 tins for	$1.00

Canned Milk

St Charles, baby size, 6 tins for	.45
St Charles, tall size, 6 tins for	.90
St Charles, hotel size, 3 tins for	.90

Tea

Lanka Tea, per pound	.60
Blue Ribbon Tea, per pound	.65
Nahlo Tea, per pound	.65
Deckajuhua Tea, per pound	.70
Braid's Ideal Tea, 3 pound carton	$1.50

For Your Christmas Cake

We have everything that is required to make a good Christmas Cake, and our prices are right.

EXTRA SPECIAL

New Brunswick Sardines, 4 tins for .25

QUALITY SERVICE LOW PRICES

The Victor
Orthophonic

The Gift that Keeps on Giving.

There is no other instrument that gives as much for the money expended. Come in and see and hear it today. If you wish to have one for Christmas, you should order at once, as the demand is so great that it is impossible to get them at once.

These machines can be supplied either with Spring or Electric Motor
A GOOD SELECTION OF RECORDS ALWAYS ON HAND

G. R. POWELL
Jeweler and Optician

McGILLIVRAY CREEK COAL and COKE CO. LTD.

Shippers of High Grade
Bituminous Steam Coal

Head Office and Mines:

COLEMAN

ALBERTA

THRIFT The Foundation of Every Honestly Earned Fortune

LEARN THRIFT BY INVESTING IN
Alberta 4<sup>0</sup>

Demand Savings Certificates

Purchased and Redeemed at Par...Payable on Demand

For Further Particulars write or apply to

HON. R. G. REID
Provincial Treasurer

W. V. NEWSON
Deputy Prov. Treasurer

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, EDMONTON, ALBERTA

